INSTRUCTIONS AND QUALIFICATIONS
(in accordance with IC 6-1.1-12.8)

GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS

- The deduction is available to a person that builds a single-family residence, a single-family townhouse, or a single-family condominium unit and holds it for sale in the ordinary course of the person's trade or business.
- The application must be filed for each assessment date for which the property owner wishes to receive the deduction.
- This deduction is available to qualifying properties first assessed as partially completed or fully completed structures for the assessment date in 2012 or a later year.
- The application may be filed in person or by mail. If mailed, the mailing must be postmarked on or before January 15.
- Any person who willfully makes a false statement of the facts in applying for this deduction is guilty of the crime of perjury and on the conviction thereof will be punished in the manner provided by law.

BENEFITS AND ELIGIBILITY

- "Residence in inventory" means real property that is not a model residence as defined in IC 6-1.1-12.6-1; and consists of a single-family residence, a single-family townhouse, or a single-family condominium unit which has never been occupied. The term does not include any of the land on which the residence, townhouse, or condominium is located.
- Eligible applicants are entitled to a deduction from the assessed value of the structure(s) in the amount of 100% of the assessed value of the residence in inventory for:
 - Not more than one (1) assessment date for which the residence in inventory is assessed as a partially completed structure.
 - The assessment date for which the residence in inventory is first assessed as a fully completed structure; and
 - The two (2) assessment dates that immediately follow the assessment date for which the property was first assessed as fully completed.
- If the ownership of a residence changes and the new owner is a residential builder, the new owner may claim the deduction. The new owner, at the time of the filing of the sales disclosure form, must inform the auditor of the transfer of ownership and the new owner's eligibility for the deduction.

LIMITATIONS

- A property owner may not receive the deduction for more than ten (10) residences in inventory in Indiana for a particular assessment date. Owners of a residence in inventory who are part of an affiliated group (as defined by IC 6-1.1-12.6-0.5) may not exceed an aggregate of ten (10) residences in inventory deductions for a particular assessment date.
- Real property that is used by the owner as the owner's regular office space may not be considered a residence in inventory; however, this does not prohibit the use of a garage or other space in the real property from storing or displaying material used to promote properties or as a space for meetings with prospective buyers or lessees.
- A property owner may not receive a residence in inventory deduction located in an allocation area as defined in IC 6-1.1-21.2-3.
- A property owner that qualifies for a residence in inventory deduction and for a deduction under another statute for a year may not receive both deductions; the property owner must select one or the other.
